

The Devil's Cards

Kanishia G.

Tajzia and I have been friends for 7 years now, which would make it half of our lives! We have been through a lot together but nothing like what happened to us one night in the fall of 2011. I was at Tajzia's house spending the night and we decided to go online and do what my friend called the "devil's cards". She had done it before but I had no idea what she was talking about. I am still not sure how they work but I guess it is something to do with Tarot Cards. While we were in her bedroom, playing around with them we heard a loud 'BOOM'! We realized that the noise had come from an iron that had been sitting upright on her shelf. It went hurtling to the ground making the loud sound as it crashed to the floor. We were terrified to say the least considering the circumstances surrounding the incident. I really wanted to stop playing the cards and Tajzia agree so we did. It may have been a coincidence but the iron was sitting upright against the wall on a shelf, which is at least a foot and a half wide. How it flew off the shelf the way it did is a mystery. We shut the computer off and went to bed and fell asleep putting the experience behind us. We were alone since Tajzia's parents had gone out for the evening.

They returned late that night and they were quite angry with us upon returning home. They were blaming us for having made a mess in the living room because all the blankets etc that should have been on the couch were lying all over the floor! We know we did not do it but we suspected that it might have had something to do with the Devil's Cards and the iron incident. We were very spooked but at the same time found it interesting. However, despite our curiosity we have not dealt with the cards since then!!
