

Attitude

Having a positive outlook can make the difference between success and failure. A good leader not only displays the right attitude at all times, he does his best to encourage the right attitude in others.

Example:

Having the right attitude motivates other children to change their negative thinking when playing together at recess.

Respect

Respect is appreciating the contributions, rights and potential of every person.

A respectful person believes that other people's ideas, thoughts and feelings are important.

Example:

Be respectful of others by accepting their differences and treating them with kindness.

Respect the earth by throwing away garbage.

Self-Control

Self Control is taking charge of yourself and your behavior, as well as making good choices and being accountable for your decisions.

Example:

Think about the consequences of your actions before you act, use common sense, be fair to others and choose words and behaviors that do not hurt other people.

Citizenship

Citizenship is having the desire to help out in your community and also caring about others who live and work around you.

Example:

Be a good citizen by following rules and participating in group activities and decisions. Also, volunteer your time in your neighborhood, your community and your school.

Responsibility

Responsibility is making good decisions about what you do and say, while taking care of yourself and others. A responsible person is dependable and accepts that they are accountable for their actions and decisions.

Example:

Be responsible by taking care of yourself, your property and your school.

Honesty

Honesty is being truthful, sincere, and straightforward. Honest people do not lie, cheat, or steal.

Example:

If you do something wrong, be honest about it and admit your mistake. Other students will learn from your example.

Accepting Consequences

Accepting consequences means being honest when you make a mistake and agreeing to correct that mistake.

Example

If you make a wrong decision, face what happens as a result of your actions without arguing.

Courtesy

Being courteous means treating others with respect. When you are courteous you are showing others that you have good manners and you are kind.

Example

Saying “Please” and “Thank you” are simple ways to show courtesy to others.
