Arthur Costa's Model of Intellectual Functioning in Three Levels from Developing Minds: A Resource Book for Teaching Thinking

Level 1:	defining	Ex. What is the definition of "lunar eclipse"? (definition)
	describing	Ex. How can we express the equation $2x(4 - 5y) + 3y = 26$ in 3 ways? (list)
	identifying	Ex. Which states seceded from the Union to form the Confederacy? (identification)
	listing	Ex. How does "The Road Not Taken" (Frost) begin? (reciting)
	naming
	observing
	reciting
	scanning
Level 2:	analyzing	Ex. In "Native Son," how does Bigger Thomas' violence against his gang members reveal a deeply-rooted insecurity & fear of people? (analysis)
	comparing	Ex. In "The Bet" (Chekov) how do the lawyer & the banker differ in their attitudes toward capital punishment? (contrast)
	contrasting	Ex. How does the term "manifest destiny" capture the essence of Western expansion in the United States? (synthesis)
	grouping	Ex. If the moon is full August 17, July 18, and June 19, when will it be full in April? (inference)
	inferring
	sequencing
	synthesizing
Level 3:	applying	Ex. Using the principle of communicative property, how can we find out the number of apple trees in an orchard having 15 rows, 5 trees in each row? (application of a principle)
	a principle	Ex. Which of the characters in "Great Expectations" suffered the most? (judgement)
	evaluating	Ex. In "The Catcher in the Rye," how might Phoebe, years later, describe Holden to her children? (speculation)
	hypothesizing
	imagining
	judging
	predicting
	speculating

COSTA'S LEVELS OF QUESTIONING

Level 1:

- ▶ The answer can be found in the text (either directly or indirectly)
- ▶ Very concrete and pertains only to the text.
- ▶ Asks for facts about what has been heard or read
- ▶ Information is recalled in the exact manner/form it was heard

Level 2:

- ▶ The answer can be inferred from the text.
- ▶ Although more abstract than a Level One question, deals only with the text
- ▶ Information can be broken down into parts
- ▶ Involves examining in detail, analyzing motives or causes, making inferences, finding information to support generalizations or decision making
- ▶ Questions combine information in a new way

Level 3:

- ▶ The answer goes beyond the text.
- ▶ Is abstract and does not pertain to the text
- ▶ Ask that judgements be made from information
- ▶ Gives opinions about issues, judges the validity of ideas or other products and justifies opinions and ideas

Three-Story House (Costa's Levels of Questioning)

To better understand the content being presented in their core subject areas, it is essential for students to learn to think critically and to ask higher levels of questions. By asking higher levels of questions, students deepen their knowledge and create connections to the material being presented, which in turn prepares them for the inquiry that occurs in tutorials. Students need to be familiar with Costa's (and/or Bloom's) levels of questioning to assist them in formulating and identifying higher levels of questions.

Directions: Read the poem below and review the "Three House Story" on the next page. Both set the stage for Costa's Levels of Questioning.

One-Two-Three Story Intellect Poem

There are one-story intellects,
two-story intellects,
and three-story intellects with skylights.

All fact collectors who have no aim beyond their facts are one-story people.

Two-story people compare, reason, generalize, using the labor of fact collectors as their own.

Three-story people idealize,
imagine, predict—their best illumination comes through the skylight.

Adapted from a quotation by Oliver Wendell Holmes

The Three-Story House

Level 1 (the lowest level) requires one to gather information.

Level 2 (the middle level) requires one to process the information.

Level 3 (the highest level) requires one to apply the information.

TITLE: Teaching Levels of Questioning

OBJECTIVES:

- Students will learn the concept of Higher Order Thinking
- Students will practice formulating questions of increasing complexity
- Students will reflect on how questioning skills can help them learn

Time in minutes/ Materials	ACTIVITY
Start - 10 Cut Pictures	Group students with cut pictures <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Give each person a piece of a picture, instruct him or her to find the people with the rest of the picture and form a new group.</li></ul>
11 - 15	Explain the Purpose of Improving Inquiry Skills <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Good questioning techniques are very important in learning. Effective learners use questioning to help motivate themselves to pay more attention in class and to remember information better.</li><li>• Questioning can be used to help us to reason through problems and to put pieces of information together in new ways—like we just did with our pictures....</li><li>• All levels of questions are important, necessary, and serve a purpose depending on the situation. Sometimes, we need low levels of questions to gain information, but, being able to define a word or remember a fact isn't an end in itself. It's how we use that information that helps us truly learn, and it's how we apply that information that is most important. All levels of questions work together to help us learn—no one level is "better" than another—they're all needed for learning, and our ultimate goal is to get to the top levels.</li><li>• Levels of Questioning are part of the way we communicate with each other. It helps you not only to read, but to understand and relate to what you're reading. There's a difference between asking and answering questions. It takes real understanding of a topic to ask a good question...a question that really makes someone consider and THINK.</li></ul>

11 - 20 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Blooms/Costa's Handout</li> </ul>	Levels of Questions Instruction <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Distribute handout</li> <li>• I like to begin with a metaphor of a building. There's the basement, the ground floors, and the penthouse. All are necessary. The basement helps you store important things for later. You can enter on the ground floor. And the penthouse, that's the icing on the cake—you've arrived!</li> <li>• Review each of the different levels of questioning:</li> <li>❖ Level 1 is like the basement—important information you need to have. These would be definitions, numbers, formulas.</li> <li>❖ Level 2 is where you take those definitions, numbers and formulas and put them to use. It's where you enter the building of thinking. You use the formulas, you translate the words, you back up ideas, you compare and contrast.</li> <li>❖ Level 3 is the big time. You're "moving on up to that deluxe apartment in the sky," to quote the Jeffersons. This is where you make the information your own. Here is where you synthesize, judge, create.</li> <li>• Be sure to give some examples of questions from each level. You can use the handout. It combines Costa's levels and Blooms Taxonomy, it explains what each level means, skills used, and provides question starters.</li> </ul>
21- 40 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• One picture for each group (the one they put together)</li> </ul>	Practice Generating Questions <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Have each group use a picture to create one question from each of Costa's three levels</li> <li>• Read questions aloud and evaluate to level as a class</li> </ul>
41-55	Reflection/Debrief <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Discuss as a group how this concept of levels of questions could be used in all their other classes (i.e., they can identify which type of tasks they are being assigned, they can create questions of their own, they can evaluate benchmark or other exam questions for complexity)</li> </ul>
Alternative Ways to present this information	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Some teachers like to read a fairy tale to their class and have them make questions about the fairy tale rather than off a picture, as is suggested in this lesson. This gets fun when you get questions such as "How is the first little pig different than the third little pig (level 2)", or "What would happen if Hansel and Gretel did not push the witch into the oven (Level 3)?"</li> </ul>

Extensions	Each day, have students practice identifying levels by finding where on Bloom's or Costa's the tasks you assign them fall <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Teach one (Costa) or two (Bloom's) level(s) per day. review the definitions of signal words, practice each level before moving to the next by creating questions with homework and/or notes.</li><li>• When reading for information or watching a video for information, have students create questions from each level and answer them. This could be extended further into a Socratic seminar (this strategy to come later!)</li><li>• When reviewing for a test, have students create their own test made up of 5 level 1 questions, 3 level 2 questions, and one level 3 question. Have them discuss and defend why each question is of that level. Then, they can use those questions as study guides.</li><li>• Make a poster of the handout to hang in your classroom.</li></ul>
