Two Rules, Three Goals

Recently we have been reviewing our Student Success Guide (we have plenty if you would like a copy, just ask!). Page 5 contains our two school rules and three life goals - the simpler the better!

- 1) I can be ok, even when others aren't.
- 2) I can be angry and not get in trouble.
- 3) I can do something even if I don't want to or if it's hard.

Our two rules keep things simple, safe, and focused on student learning:

- 1) It is never ok to be hurtful.
- 2) It is never ok to be disruptive.

We teach students these two basic rules in order to provide consistent expectations across the building, enabling everyone to have an opportunity to learn and feel welcomed at school.

Our three life goals are the essential skills our students will need to possess as they transition into adulthood:

I'm sure you agree, these are skills all students AND adults must demonstrate to succeed in life!

Our job as educators is to help students understand and follow these rules while at the same time provide opportunities to learn and practice the skills they need to fulfill those life goals. It is the basis of everything we do at Lee - if you have any questions, please schedule a time to meet with one of our staff! Thank you for your continued support.
