Disregard the Facebook !!!!!

A screenshot of the 'Get a Quizlet Account' sign-up form. At the top, there is a 'Signup with Facebook' button. Below it, the word 'OR' is centered. The form contains several input fields: 'Username', 'Password', 'Retype Password', and 'Email'. There is also a 'Birthday' section with dropdown menus for 'Month', 'Day', and 'Year', and a small text link 'Why do you need my birthday?'. At the bottom, there is a checkbox for 'I agree to the Terms of Service' and a 'Sign Up' button. Two black arrows point from the text 'Disregard the Facebook !!!!!' to the 'Signup with Facebook' button and the 'OR' text.

2. You will get a message confirming your account. Click on the link to verify.

3. You are now ready to begin creating your flashcards. Click on “Make Flashcards”

The screenshot shows the Quizlet homepage. At the top is the Quizlet logo. Below it is a navigation bar with links: Home, My Dashboard, My Friends & Groups, Find Flashcards, and Make Flashcards. A section titled "See Your Friends on Quizlet" contains text about Facebook integration and two buttons: "See My Friends" and "No thanks". An arrow points from "No thanks" to the text "Disregard Facebook Sign In Options". Below this is a green "Make Flashcards" button and a search bar with the text "Find something to study..." and a magnifying glass icon.

4. Include a Title and Description. Choose the appropriate languages.

Create a New Flashcard Set

The screenshot shows the "Create a New Flashcard Set" form. It is divided into two columns: "About your flashcard set" and "Optional Info". In the "About your flashcard set" column, there is a text input field for the title containing "Cells" and a larger text area for the description containing "Cell Organelles and their functions". Below these are dropdown menus for "Visible to:" (set to "everyone") and "Editors:" (set to "just me"). In the "Optional Info" column, there is a "Subjects" dropdown menu set to "Science" and a checked checkbox for "Allow set discussion".

The screenshot shows the "Enter your flash cards" form. It has two buttons: "Add Images" and "Import Data". Below these are two dropdown menus for language selection, both set to "Choose a language...". Below the language dropdowns are two input fields for flashcard content. The first input field contains the number "1" and is empty. The second input field is empty. There are "X" and "↕" icons to the right of the input fields.

5. Now enter our flash cards...

The screenshot shows the "Enter your flash cards" form with content entered. The language dropdowns are now set to "English". The first input field contains the number "1" and the text "Endoplasmic Reticulum". Below the input field is a link that says "auto-define 'Endoplasmic Reticulum'". The second input field is empty. There are "X" and "↕" icons to the right of the input fields.

Quizlet

- When you input a vocabulary word, you will have the option of choosing pre-determined definitions. If you want to choose one of the pre-determined definitions, click the circle Use Selected Definition.

The screenshot shows the Quizlet interface with a modal window for the word "ENDOPLASMIC RETICULUM". The modal title is "ENDOPLASMIC RETICULUM" and it says "Choose the best definition (100 found)". There are three radio button options for definitions, each followed by "USER-CONTRIBUTED". The first option is selected. Below the options is a button labeled "Use selected definition". In the background, there is a "Create Set" button. At the bottom of the interface, there is a button labeled "+ Add Row: click here or press TAB on the last input box." and a "Create Set" button.

- Continue Words and Definitions until your word set is complete. Then click Create Set.

Your students can have accounts, just like you have an account. The benefit to having a student account is they can create their own Flash Cards and also monitor their study times and progress. To create an account, they just need an email address, which we provide for them from the district. However, understand not all students have activated their google accounts, so this may not be an option for them at this time.
